

BEGIN TRIAL OF LONG LIST OF CASES MONDAY

Hearing of civil suits in the October term of Adams County court will begin Monday, with 10 trials listed for the jurors.

The largest number of civil cases scheduled for one term in several years, the list began with 14 cases for trial.

The cases listed as No. 2 and No. 3 have been continued. They were the trespass actions brought by Marilyn L. Kump Shank, Gettysburg, and her father, Floyd J. Kump, Cashtown, against Howard C. Weikert and Tom Kump, with Faye Little, administratrix of the estate of Philip L. Little, deceased, as an additional defendant, and the trespass action brought by Mrs. Little as administratrix of her son's estate against Weikert and Kump. The suits arise from an auto accident near Cashtown in which cars operated by Weikert and Tom Kump, one of the vehicles being that of Philip Little, were allegedly drag racing when one of the cars collided head-on with an auto operated by the then Marilyn Kump and owned by her father.

MOSTLY DAMAGE SUITS

Other suits are the trespass action of Fred F. and May S. Titchener against R. A. Hiner; a trespass action of Nettie Myers versus Stewart Miller; a trespass action of Michael A. Elias versus Larson Corporation; an assumption action of Careva Co. against Gettysburg Construction Co.; a trespass action by C. Robert Brothers, administrator of the estate of Edna B. Brothers, against Dennis C. and Lester Cluck; the appeal from the finding of the board of view in action of Harold and Marjorie W. Schuh against the Department of Highways and the assumption action of Chief Split Cloud against Hilde B. Kirkner.

Prothonotary Herbert Miller said it is anticipated the actions in trespass brought by Acco Realty Co. and Robert L. Schroyer against Charles C. Kachel and by Kachel against Schroyer and American Casualty Co. will be heard as one trial.

A motion to continue the assumption action of Kenneth E. Spotts against Bankers Mutual Insurance Co. of Adams County was filed in the last open court, the prothonotary said, but no order of court has been handed down as yet granting a continuance.

HEAT RECORDS ARE SET HERE

Temperatures in the upper 70's here for the last two days have set 60-year heat records for those dates, Gettysburg Times' weather records showed today.

Friday's high was 76 degrees and the nearest approach to that reading on any previous October 25 came in 1924 when the high was 74 degrees.

Thursday's high in Gettysburg was 78 degrees and that set a new mark, too. The hottest previous October 24 in Gettysburg was in 1940 when the high was 77 degrees.

The high temperatures during the last three days with 30-degree temperature drops overnight have resulted in heavy morning fogs with this morning's the most dense of the three.

October seemed today to be well on its way to setting a record for itself as a hot, dry month. There has been no measurable rainfall in Gettysburg so far this month while nine days have seen high readings at 80 or above and nine others have been in the 70's. Last year the average daily high reading in Gettysburg for October was just over 67 degrees.

STAHLER GETS DIVORCE HERE THIS MORNING

Judge W. C. Sheely in an opinion filed in court today granted a divorce to John C. Stahle of Gettysburg from his wife, Anna D. Deatrick Stahle.

In granting the decree, the court sustained exceptions taken by Stahle's attorney to a second master's report in which a recommendation was made that the divorce be refused.

The divorce was granted on grounds of indignities to the person.

SUIT FILED IN JAN.

The divorce action was started in the county court last January and after a hearing before a court-appointed master, the master filed his report recommending that a decree be denied and the case be dismissed. The plaintiff's attorney then filed a petition asking that the case be referred back to the master for additional testimony. The master's second report again recommended that the divorce be refused and it was to that report that the exceptions were filed which resulted in today's decree in divorce.

The record shows that Mrs. Stahle did not appear at any stage in the court proceedings. The couple was married 19 years ago and has three children. For a number of years they resided on Springs Ave. here.

MASTER REVERSED

The master's reports had concluded that the conduct of neither party on the basis of testimony in the case "constitutes such indignities to the person as would justify divorce" and that the deterioration of the marriage was caused as much by Stahle as by his wife.

Abandon Hope Of Saving 39 Men Trapped In Mine

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Authorities abandoned hope today for 39 miners trapped in a flooded iron mine since Thursday night, but said four other men are expected to be saved. The announcement by the mine management came after 11 relatives of the missing men, who had been keeping a steady vigil since the disaster, stormed the mine office demanding information.

Rescue workers, many of whom had toiled through the night, continued their search despite the announcement.

ESCAPE BLOCKADE

The management declined to give any other details but it is believed the four are huddled in a chamber in the east section of the mine, with their escape blocked by water.

Some of the 39 men are believed trapped in chambers of the mine's water-swept gallery,

STATE AUDIT IS REPORTED

The office of State Auditor General Thomas Z. Minehart at Harrisburg has released the results of an audit of the accounts of the school districts in upper Adams County which were united in July, 1959, to form the Upper Adams Merged School District.

The audit covered the last year of operation of the joint school system that was replaced by the merged district and examined the last year of school operation for the school districts of the Upper Adams Joint School District, Ardentown, Benderville, Biglerville, Butler Twp., Menallen Twp. and Tyrone Twp. school districts.

The unusual feature of the report is that the state auditors had no faults to find with school board procedures for the year covered by the audit. The audit reports usually are accompanied by pointing out practices found by the auditors that are not in compliance with state law or good bookkeeping practices.

The audit also shows that in the first year of operation of the merged school district expenditures totaled $505,971 and state reimbursements and subsidies totaled $336,398.35.

He was removed to the Warner Hospital by ambulance, treated for lacerations of the head. Police then took him before Justice of the Peace Harry Baker on a charge of reckless driving. Unable to pay the fine and costs, he was committed to the county jail for a time until the money could be raised. Damage to his car was estimated at $125.

Interrupted Rifle Match To Resume

The rifle team of the local Howitzer Battery of the National Guard will resume Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock the firing for record it began on Wednesday evening.

Members of the squad Wednesday had just started to shoot in the second round of the squadron rifle competition when a highway department truck struck a Metropolitan Edison Co. pole, putting the army firing range—as well as much of the community—in darkness. The team members went home.

Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 they will gather again at the armory on W. Confederate Ave. for another try at firing with the hope that the delay will not have affected their shooting eye. The team came out on top in the first intersquadron shoot a week ago and hopes to do as well again.

Unpredictable Ginny Goes Berserk On Land And Sea; Many Evacuate Coast Area

By NOEL YANCEY
WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Ginny, still a dangerous, unpredictable lass, romped near the North Carolina coast today after offering a brief reprieve during the early morning hours.

The erratic storm, which became a hurricane 90 miles off Cape Hatteras last week and then slipped southward to Florida's coast and back, headed out to sea shortly before midnight. But, resuming its former hesitancy to keep a definite course, she shuttled in toward land early today.

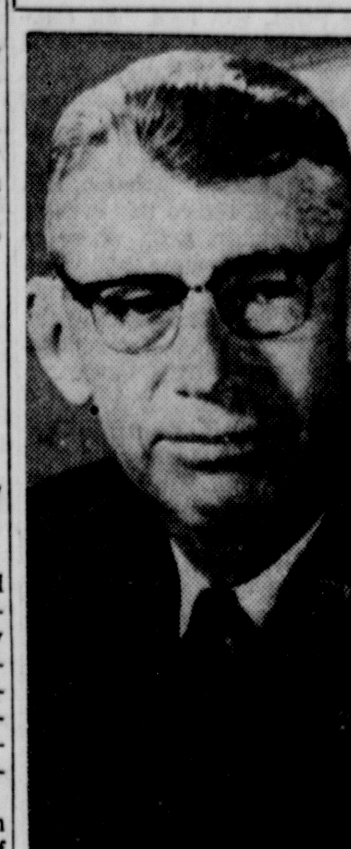

In an early advisory, the Weather Bureau estimated her center to be about 60 statute miles southeast of Wilmington.

RAIN AND WIND

Ginny brought heavy rain and hurricane force gusts to the mainland. Wilmington received 3.5 inches of rain during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

GIVES PAPER AT SYMPOSIUM

Richard Thomas, son of Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas Sr., W. Lincoln Ave., recently participated in the annual technical symposium of the Association for Computing Machinery at the University of Maryland, where he presented a paper on "Character Recognition in Context," for RCA.

Thomas, who resides in Washington, D.C., was graduated from the Hill School and Princeton University and took post graduate work at Harvard, where he studied Japanese. He spent a year in Japan under the Yeng Ching Foundation at Harvard. During the war he was assigned to military intelligence duty at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

A system designed for RCA, Thomas' paper dealt with the output of a character-recognition machine in computing techniques for supplying optimal solutions to "syllable grammars." The paper also examined the use of context larger than the syllable or word.

Dog Owners May Be Prosecuted

"Many complaints have reached me," Mayor Weaver said today, about dogs running loose. They are reported as destroying property, digging up lawns and flower beds, etc. Worst of all there have been recent cases of people being bitten by dogs running loose. Enforcement is difficult because people either refuse to tell or do not know the dog's owner.

"As complaints are received and the owner made known, the police have been instructed to contact the owner and if he fails to restrain the dog a warrant will be issued for his arrest. It is hoped," Weaver added, "that this will be taken as a warning by all dog owners."

"It was pointed out that no law has been found to keep a dog from barking. They can't read. As long as a dog is on his owner's property the provisions of the local ordinance on dog's does not apply."

EX-PRESIDENT URGES ALL TO JOIN PTP MOVE

Former President Eisenhower is urging all Americans to make a personal contribution to peace by joining "People-to-People," the world friendship movement which he heads.

Writing in November Reader's Digest, Gen Eisenhower characterizes the seven-year-old movement as "an epidemic of friendship among people of the world" and urges that its activities "be increased a hundredfold."

Thousands of local projects are already under way, writes the general. They range from letters exchanged by school children to "sister city" affiliations of U.S. and foreign communities. These, he says, "provide clear proof that, given a chance, people will make friends across, around, over and under all the natural and man-made barriers which separate them."

A PTP chapter in Joplin, Mo., arranges for foreign visitors to have dinner and spend an evening with local families. PTP has sent hundreds of thousands of books to book-hungry cities in Asia and Africa. Sports teams have been exchanged and sports equipment sent to cities and towns abroad. Hundreds of thousands of Americans correspond with foreign "pen pals."

SOLID PROGRAM

"Among the solidest of the programs," says Ike, "is the 'sister city' movement, conducted by the civic committee (or PTP) with the help of the American Municipal Association. More than 250 American towns and cities are affiliated with an equal number in 52 foreign countries."

Among these "sister cities" are Tokyo and New York; Washington, D.C., and Bangkok; Oakland, Neb., and Hammebog, Sweden; Chicago and Milan.

Sister cities regularly exchange teachers, students and other visitors. Books, magazines, tape recordings and other informative materials are also part of the two-way flow. Seattle, Wash., and Kobe, Japan, have swapped roses and other fine plants. York, Pa., and Arles, France, carry on a flourishing exchange which some years ago resulted in a York teacher marrying the mayor of Arles.

BEST AMBASSADORS

Among the best PTP "ambassadors" are our military men, says Gen. Eisenhower. "We always hear about it when some GI gets into serious trouble abroad. We hear all too little about the generous deeds of friendship which outweigh these a hundredfold," he asserts.

Chief value of People-to-People, Mr. Eisenhower says, is to strengthen "the bonds" of friendship and understanding among free countries. But he believes the program will eventually reach also into lands behind the iron curtain, "for the citizens of Communist countries want peace and friendship just as much as we Americans do."

When all of the peanuts have been sold, $1,200 will have been received, giving the band fund about $400 profit.

Band members who still have peanuts are asked to either return the peanuts or the money for them to Mr. Hays next week.

Persons wishing to purchase peanuts to help the band fund are asked to contact either Mr. Hays, or Mrs. David Metz, 334-3763, the president of the Band Parents' organization.

York Springs REPORTS GIVEN ON CONVENTION

The executive meeting of the WCTU was held in the Church of God at Rock Chapel with 19 women present. The meeting opened at 7:30 with devotions by Mrs. Bennie Fadenrecht with the group singing "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen in Me." Mrs. Fadenrecht then read from Psalm 96 and gave a reading on "Spiritual Air Conditioners." After silent prayer in memory of two members of the Biglerville group who passed away recently, they were led in prayer by Mrs. Howe.

Mrs. Fadenrecht gave a report on the state convention held recently in Butler when Adams County WCTU received honors for standard of excellence, the Biglerville local having 17 points out of the 22; for having three fruitful locals, Latimore, five new members; Biglerville, one new member, and York Springs, 11 new members, and "Life Line," Biglerville, Latimore and York Springs locals.

Signs were on display to encourage enlistment of new members, securing the dues of those who are present members, asking those who were once members to come back and telling other women the necessity of joining the WCTU by emphasizing that the WCTU is the yardstick by which the dry sentiment is measured. To the individual who gets five new members, the state organization will give a white ribbon bow pin and for 10 new members a silver pin. Since this is the 90th year of the national organization, each local is asked to add nine new members by December 23, which would place them on the Crusade Honor Roll.

The next executive meeting will be held after Christmas in the Hampton Fire Hall with a covered dish supper. The date will be announced later.

It was decided that the local work to get $25 to be given as a donation to help pay the expenses of the next convention to be held in 1964. Elementary, Franklinton School, Littlestown and New Oxford.

BIOLOGY IN THE SENIOR AREA HIGH SCHOOL

"The struggle to know is one of the most exciting dramas of history, and every man who ever tried to learn anything has enacted it for himself to some extent."

Today's biology classes pose new problems for the teacher. The ever-widening of experiences and knowledge among students in the same classes and the increasing need for specific information about man himself are presenting a challenge.

Through careful planning of time, methods of approach and materials, we are attempting to instill fundamental knowledge, develop basic skills, and inspire creative activities for the students. Our laboratories in the new senior high school provide facilities for small group participation in the various areas of biological science.

There are nine laboratory desks provided. The equipment includes 14 microscopes, numerous models and charts, an aquarium and two germinating tables. Each student receives a quart jar containing preserved specimens that are used to study representatives of the animal kingdom.

The student is introduced to the laboratory phase of biology with elementary work requiring use of the microscope. Life itself is introduced on the cellular level. Plant and animal cells are compared both in class discussion and by microscopic examination. Cells examined in class are cheek cell, onion cell, potato cell, tomato cell and elodea cell, a common aquatic plant. Through this work, the student is shown the basic similarities and differences between these two forms of life.

As the year progresses, the student performs experiments and instructional exercises which demonstrate further relationships among living organisms. This is accomplished by student dissections of representatives from each of the major animal phyla. These include the phyla annelida (segmented worms, earthworms), echinodermata (spiny skinned animals, starfish), mollusca (clams, oysters), arthropoda (animals with jointed appendages, cray-fish, grasshoppers), vertebrates (fish and frogs). Discussions are correlated with these dissections for the purpose of comparing the systems present in the representative animal to man.

While studying the plant kingdom, representatives of each of the major phyla are studied and compared as to the basic similarities and increasing complexity of structure. These studies include: the common algae, bread mold, yeast, mushrooms and related fungi, mosses and ferns and flowering plants.

The study of biology is for all.

Kennedy Gets Amherst Degree

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy flew today to Massachusetts for ceremonies at Amherst College in memory of the late poet Robert Frost.

An early morning fog in Washington forced Kennedy to use an automobile rather than the planned helicopter to go from the White House to Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland.

From there, the presidential plane took off at 9:27 a.m. (EDT) for the flight of about an hour to Westover Air Force Base, Mass., enroute to the Amherst campus.

Kennedy will speak twice, receive and honorary Doctor of Laws degree as did Frost before him and preside over the ground breaking for a $3.5-million Robert Frost memorial library.

The elements of biology are the fundamental facts essential to the knowledge of man living in today's world. These elements which are presented through oral review, illustration, thought-questions and projects should make this goal a reality.

JURY PROBES WILD DEB BALL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Samuel Shipley, a Temple University student, is expected to appear Tuesday before a Suffolk County N.Y., grand jury probing a debate party that turned into a free-for-all.

Philadelphia Judge Leo Weinrott ordered Shipley Friday to appear as a witness at the jury investigation in Riverdale, N.Y. Shipley was brought into court here in an action instituted by District Attorney James Crumlish Jr.

Dist. Atty. Bernard C. Smith, of Suffolk County, said Shipley was present when some of the 800 guests at the Aug. 31 affair caused an estimated $10,000 damage to the 45-room mansion at Southampton Village, Long Island.

The party was for Fernanda Wanamaker Wetherill, daughter of Mrs. Donald S. Leas Jr., and the great-granddaughter of the late John Wanamaker, department store founder.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William F. Killeen of Philadelphia said the aid of his office was requested after Shipley earlier failed to appear before the grand jury.

WESTINGHOUSE AGREES TO PAY WAGE INCREASE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Agreement was reached today on a new contract granting wage increases averaging 13 1/2 cents an hour and fringe benefits to some 36,000 workers of Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The contract was hammered out in 12 weeks of bargaining between the company and the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO which represents workers at 34 Westinghouse plants across the country.

Talks were held under a day-to-day threat of a general strike. Two plants were struck since the union's contract expired Oct. 14. Federal mediators entered the talks Oct. 18.

THREE-YEAR CONTRACT

The basic contract will run three years and the sections covering pensions, insurance and vacations will run five years.

Neither the company nor the union estimated the overall value of the package. The union said workers averaged about $2.75 an hour under the old pact.

A wage hike averaging 6 1/2 cents an hour goes into effect immediately and an increase averaging 7 cents an hour will start April 19, 1965.

The company said contract adjustments also were made on seniority, clarification of issues subject to arbitration and the shutdown of plants for vacations.

WILL PROVIDE FRINGES

Two weeks ago, the company signed a new contract with the Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions that granted the same pay increase and also provided improvements in fringe benefits.

Another union, the Independent United Electrical Workers, also has been free to strike since Oct. 5 but has kept its men at work while negotiations continue. The union has not reached a settlement.

A fourth union, the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has a contract that expires Oct. 31.

Mine officials said the 43 men were scattered in at least three groups. About two-thirds of the mine was presumed flooded to a depth of 180 feet. The missing men were believed to be below this level.

Huge dump trucks worked continuously to bring loads of earth to plug the gap in the dam.

A drilling machine cut a shaft toward the gallery to send down a "rescue bomb"—a metal tube about 10 feet long—that could haul any miners to the surface.

The operation was similar to the procedure used in the rescue of two Americans, Henry Throne and David Fellin, from a coal mine near Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 27.

YANKS TRAIL CANADA CUP

PARIS (AP) — Retief Waltman, a little known South African golfer, shrugged off talk that Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer still would take the Canada Cup trophy and said: "No matter how well the Americans are playing, I'm sure we can take them."

Waltman, a 25-year-old former mounted policeman, and Gary Player led the team standings at the end of the second round with a total of 277.

Nicklaus and Palmer are in a three-way tie for second place with a 278. Canadians Stan Leonard and Al Balding and Spaniards Sebastian Miguel and Ramon Sota also have 278 totals.

Players from 3 countries play one more round today and another Sunday to decide the team and individual competitions.

Player and Balding are in a tie for the individual prize with a two-round total of 38. They are followed by Miguel, Sota, Palmer, Nicklaus and Waltman at 139.

Waltman joined with Player for this tournament after threatening to quit big-time golf three or four times because he thought he would never hit the big time.

LONGEST GRID STREAK ENDS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The longest current winning string in Pennsylvania scholastic football was broken Friday night as Beaver bowed to Monaca 9-14.

Another impressive victory run went up in smoke as Lock Haven tasted revenge in a 27-13 victory over Danville.

Beaver had won 26 straight and Danville extended its unbeaten string over 17 games.

Danville sorely missed quarterback Jack Curry, out with a knee injury, as Lock Haven paid back the Ironmen for stopping its own 28-game unbeaten streak last year.

Sunbury's quest for an East Penn Conference crown was enhanced with a 25-14 victory over Milton.

Cheltenham shattered Norris-town's hope for a suburban title with a 26-6 victory.

John Harris rebounded from last week's defeat, its first in more than three years, taking its wrath out on York, 26-13.

GHS Collapses In Last Quarter To Drop 28-6 Verdict At Big Spring

A tired defense in the final quarter enabled the Big Spring Bulldogs to roll to a 28-6 win over Gettysburg High School, Friday evening in a Blue Mountain League battle in Newville before a large crowd.

The Warriors were far from being outclassed as the score may indicate. On the contrary, Gettysburg moved on the ground and in the air well for three quarters. Both teams scored in the second period and a missed conversion gave the Bulldogs a 7-6 advantage until late in the game. The Warrior forward wall turned in an exceptionally fine job led by Bill Jones, Gary Guise, Jim Rowe and Paul Kump. Big Spring was thrown for 47 yards loss, most of the setbacks coming when the visiting line hit the quarterback before he could get his plays going. Bob Drawbaugh, leading ground gainer for the Bulldogs, saw his average go by the wayside.

Dick Finkboner connected on over 50 per cent of his passes, landing nine of 16. His average in the first half made fans sit up and take notice as he completed seven of nine tosses for 72 yards.

After both teams battled across the midfield stripe, Big Spring made its dent in the scoreboard at the 9:16 mark of the second period. The Bulldogs started the period in possession on the Gettysburg 27 via a poor Warrior punt. Three plays later, the ball was resting on the 14 and after Jim Bailey and Drawbaugh advanced to the five on three plays, Drawbaugh skirted right end for the TD. Quarterback John Ludi connected on his first four perfect placements.

TAKE TO AIR

Following the kickoff, Gettysburg took over on its 42. Finkboner hit Joe Riley for a 14-yard aerial and came back moments later with a 17-yard toss to Bob Seiby who made a picture catch. Three plays later Finkboner again hit Riley for 11 yards putting the ball on the 17. From there Finkboner flipped a pass to the left corner where he connected with Carl Harvey to climax the 58-yard scoring drive. A bad snap from center forced Finkboner to run for the point, but he was stopped before reaching the goal line. The score remained 7-6 until the fourth quarter.

In the last eight minutes of the game, the Gettysburg defense folded and the Bulldogs lost little time in capitalizing. Following a Warrior punt, Big Spring marched 55 yards on seven plays with Bailey bolting over from the two at the 8:10 mark. A little over two minutes later, Joel Stamy intercepted a Finkboner pass to give Big Spring possession on the Gettysburg two from where Ludi crashed into the end zone.

LATE SCORE

With 1:02 left in the game, Big Spring tallied its final TD. Gettysburg, trying desperately to come back, lost the ball on downs on its own 36. Three plays later Stamy circled right end from 13 yards out and moved into the end zone standing up.

Gettysburg, 3-5 on the season and 3-4 in the BML, will play its final home game of the season when it takes on Newport next Friday evening on Kurtz Field. Big Spring is 5-1-1 on the year and an identical record in the conference.

BUFFALO BILLS LOSE SEVENTH GRID PLAYER

By JACK HAND

The Buffalo Bills have to be the toughest luck club of pro football this season.

Going into tonight's home game with the Boston Patriots, the Bills already have lost seven men for the season. The latest was Roger Kochman, former Penn State halfback, who never will play football again after suffering a knee separation.

The list of Buffalo's maimed and wounded who will see no more service this year includes halfbacks Wray Carlton, Fred Brown and Kochman, defensive backs Billy Atkins and Jim Johnson, linebacker Jim Moss and tackle Dick Hudson.

The Bills, picked by many to win the Eastern Division of the American Football League, take a disappointing 2-4-1 record into the game with Boston. The Pats were shaken early by injuries to quarterback Babe Parilli but have moved into a tie for the division lead with a 4-3 record with Parilli back in action.

New York's Jets, losers of two straight on the road after an auspicious start, face the battered Denver Broncos at the Polo Grounds in the other Saturday night pro game. The Jets are favored.

Seven games in the National Football League and two more in the AFL will complete the pro schedule Sunday.

DO-OR-DIE

Both the New York Giants and Baltimore Colts approach the do-or-die point. The Giants must win at Cleveland to stay alive in the Eastern Conference. A defeat would drop them three full games back of the unbeaten Browns. Baltimore also must beat Green Bay to stay in the race in the Western Conference where the Packers and Chicago Bears share the lead at 5-1.

Philadelphia limps into Chicago to meet the Bears, still smarting after that upset in San Francisco. Charlie Johnson of St. Louis and Norm Snead of Washington will be the opposing pitchers at Washington where everybody scores. Tom Landry is going with Don Meredith at quarterback for his Dallas Cowboys at Pittsburgh where the Steelers need a win to stay close.

Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings won't have to contend with Joe Schmidt, Detroit's fierce middle linebacker, in their game at Detroit because Schmidt is out for perhaps a month with a dislocated shoulder. The San Francisco-Los Angeles game in the Coliseum is a dead even affair. Each team won its first game last week.

It will be teacher vs. pupil again at San Diego when Sid Gillman of the Chargers faces Al Davis, his former assistant and now head coach at Oakland. In the other AFL game, Houston hopes to reverse an earlier defeat when it meets the Chiefs at home. Loss of Abner Haynes puts a crimp in the Kansas City attack.

ARCHER BEATS RUBIN CARTER ON SPLIT VOTE

NEW YORK (AP)—It was like old times at the Garden—no television, a good-sized crowd, noisy fans, a controversial split decision, and a blast from the loser.

Joey Archer, the handsome pride of the Bronx, used a snapping left jab and fast feet to gain an upset, 2-1 verdict from the officials over aggressive, harder-hitting Rubin Carter of Paterson, N.J., in a lively 10-rounder Friday night.

Boxing writers polled at the ringside had it 9-5 in favor of Carter, the 2-1 betting choice.

The first non-TV show since colorful Cassius Clay packed the house seven months ago drew 8,592 customers and $36,417. Clay and Doug Jones lured a capacity crowd of 18,732 and $104,943.

SEEKS TITLE SCRAP

With the victory over the fighter who had been ranked as the No. 1 middleweight contender by the World Boxing Association, Archer said "I'm going to see the boxing commission Monday and make an official challenge for a title fight with Dick Tiger."

He'll have to wait a while. Tiger, the world champion from Nigeria, defends his crown next against Joey Giardello at Atlantic City, N.J., Dec. 7.

Referee Art Mercante, 5-4-1, and judge Tony Castellano, 6-4, voted for Archer. Judge Al Berli had it 5-4-1 for Carter. The Associated Press scorecard had Carter in front, 6-3-1.

"I won the fight," Carter growled. "I made the fight by going after him. I should have gone after him a lot harder though to make sure."

ILLINOIS IS YARD PRESSED TO BEAT UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Highly favored Illinois stunned and trailing by two points as UCLA scored two touchdowns in the third quarter, rallied with a relentless 62-yard ground attack in the final quarter to defeat the Bruins 8-12 Friday night.

The winning drive consumed 16 plays, with sophomore fullback Jim Grabowski diving over the pile for the final yard and the winning touchdown. Fred Custardo passed to Rich Callaghan for a two-point conversion to ice the intersectional battle.

UCLA was blanked 10-0 by the No. 4 ranked visitors from the Big Ten at the half.

SCORE ON FUMBLE

But abruptly the complexion of the game changed and the excitement of the sparse 24,616 in Memorial Coliseum mounted as UCLA hit the scoreboards for two touchdowns.

The first UCLA touchdown came when Illinois' quarterback Mike Taliaferro was hit, the ball spurted into the air, and the Bruins' Byron Nelson grabbed it and ran 24 yards to score.

Soon afterward, the Bruins gained 32 yards in an exchange of punts and UCLA traveled 36 yards in five plays with Larry Zeno passing the final seven to Nelson. He caught it on the two and stepped over.

A pass and a kick for the extra points were both unsuccessful.

SCORE ON OPTION

The first Illinois touchdown came the first time the Illini got the ball in the first quarter.

They traveled 79 yards in 13 ground plays, with Sam Price racing the final 21 yards on an option pass from Taliaferro.

Illinois recovered a fumble on the UCLA 20 in the second quarter and turned it into a field goal on a 25-yard boot by Jim Plankenhorn.

Illinois apparently had the game locked up. Its big backs and hard-charging line stormed 71 yards to only three for the Bruins on the ground in the first period.

Three times UCLA threatened in the second quarter, with its lone weapon, the pass.

The Bruins got to the enemy 30, 22, and the 3 but couldn't score.

Illinois gained 269 yards to 29 for UCLA on the ground, while the Bruins' aerial attack netted 172 to 44 for Illinois.

and whether he is able to re-enter a game after a minor injury.

Brashear said head and neck injuries in football have increased in recent years and suggested that modern headgear with face masks may contribute to this trend. It is illegal to grab an opposing player's face mask, but Brashear said officials perhaps do not enforce rules strictly enough.

Dominating play throughout, with the exception of a 78-yard touchdown kickoff return to open the second half, the Littletown High School Thunderbolts chalked up a 19-6 victory over Kennard-Dale Friday night at Littletown in a York County League game played before a large crowd.

The kickoff run by Russ Smith kept the Rams from a shutout as the Thunderbolts piled up 17 first downs in keeping the pressure on their opponents most of the evening.

Early in the first period an exchange of punts gave Littletown possession on its own 11-yard line from where the Bolts launched a 14-play touchdown drive. Big Eddie Koontz spearheaded the drive and climaxed the attack by smacking over from the two early in the second period. During the drive the Bolts picked up seven first downs in an uninterrupted march, Koontz picking up 13, 17, nine and eight yards on four of his carries while Terry Arbogast fired passes to Koontz for 11 and to Jim Strevig for nine. Arbogast's kick for the point was blocked.

SMITH RECOVERS

With about two minutes left in the second quarter Bob Smith, Bolt center, recovered a Ram fumble on the Kennard-Dale 49 from where Littletown launched its second TD assault.

Arbogast took to the air, firing one pass to John Burgoon which was good for 18 yards to the 30, another to Jim Strevig for six to place the ball on the 16 and coming back with another to Strevig on the two from where he went over. Arbogast added the point on a placement to make it 13-0 at half time.

Smith then came up with his electrifying 78-yard run up the middle to open the second half which put Kennard-Dale back in contention. Harold Wales' boot for the point was blocked by Tim Stites.

Kennard-Dale kicked off and then Terry Pottorf brought the fans to their feet with a 44-yard runback to the Rams' 41. Littletown moved to the 30 where the stubborn Rams held. A short time later Kennard-Dale kicked to the Littletown 39 and the Bolts reeled of three straight first downs only to halt the drive again, this time on the 18.

Clyde Burkins kicked out four plays later, Greg Smith getting back to the K-D 28. Louie Orndorff got three yards before Koontz raced 10 for a first down on the 15 as the third quarter ended.

KOONTZ GOES OVER

Two tries resulted in no gain and then the visitors were penalized five yards for off-sides. On the next play Arbogast passed to Koontz on the five who shook away from two tackles to cross the goal line. Arbogast's first kick for the point was good but a five-yard penalty against the Bolts nullified the point and the next time Arbogast's kick was off to the left.

HARRIERS WIN 8TH STRAIGHT

The Gettysburg College cross country team remained undefeated in dual meet competition when it turned back the Franklin and Marshall harriers 22-34 Friday afternoon in Lancaster. The victory was number eight for Coach Hal Glad's squad.

Jim Lombardi registered another first place in his long string over a two-year period when he flashed home over the 4.2-mile layout in 22 minutes flat. Thirty-five seconds behind him was teammate Ed Salmon. Dave Thomas paced the Diplomats by taking a third place in 23:44 minutes.

Bob Linders registered a fourth while Dave Bloomer came in sixth and Bob Loomis recorded a ninth place to account for Gettysburg's 22 tallies. Once again the Bullets had to go without the services of Roger Malehorn and Jerry Staub. Both are expected to be back in action in a week to two weeks.

Gettysburg will put its undefeated string on the line Wednesday afternoon when it travels to Carlisle to meet the Dickinson runners.

The victory gives Littletown a 4-3-1 record with the finale scheduled for next Friday evening at Hanover. Kennard-Dale loss was its eighth in as many starts.

RUDOLPH HAS 5-STROKE LEAD IN GOLF MATCH

By DICK BARNES

Associated Press Sports Writer
FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Mason Rudolph likes to golf in California because he can't read the big "E" on eye charts.

Sound confusing?

Mason has an explanation: "I like to play out here this time of year because we catch the best weather. Playing with glasses in the rain we would get most anywhere else puts me at a disadvantage."

"I certainly have to wear the glasses because I can't see the big 'E' without them." But the specs don't have windshield wipers.

FIRE A 67

His first two rounds at the $25,000 Fresno Open also make Mason partial to autumn golf in California. He fired a 67 Friday to go with Thursday's first-round 66 and took a five-stroke lead into Saturday's third round.

Rudolph, 29, now playing out of Lehigh Acres, Fla., after a student golfing career at Memphis State, admits that his thick glasses get his vision down to practically 20-20.

His sight was good enough to convince him Friday that a second shot at the 430-yard 7th hole required a five-iron, not the six he first selected.

SIX BIRDIES

He promptly belted the ball six inches from the cup to set up his most spectacular of six birdies in a 34-33 round at the 7,181-yard, par 36-36-72 San Joaquin Country Club course.

The five-stroke edge is the biggest he's ever held in a professional tournament.

But he was four blows ahead after three rounds at the Portland, Ore., Open a month ago and lost that one in a playoff to Canadian George Knudson.

MOUNTS LOSE TO LYNCHBURG

The Mt. St. Mary's College soccer team dropped a hard fought 1-0 decision to Lynchburg in a Mason-Dixon Conference game at Emmitsburg Friday.

A goal by Howard with about eight minutes of play remaining gave Lynchburg the verdict.

The Mountaineers, 2-4-2 overall, will meet Loyola at Emmitsburg on Tuesday.

FROSH ROMP TO EASY WIN OVER BISON

The Gettysburg College freshman football team scored early in the first quarter and went on to defeat Bucknell 20-8 Friday afternoon in the Bullet yearling's only home game of the four-conference season.

Coach Ray Reider's Little Bullets lost little time in registering a six-pointer on the scoreboard. After kicking off to the Little Bisons, Bucknell was unable to move the ball on three downs resulting in a punting situation. Bob Marks booted the ball but defensive ace Bill Brewer came charging through and blocked the kick. Guard Bill Tierney followed close behind, picked up the pigskin on the 11 and dashed into the end zone for the score. Dick Shirk's run for the two extra points was stopped.

The second time it got its hands on the ball, Gettysburg produced another score, minutes before the end of the first stanza. The Bullets took over on their own 43 following a Bucknell punt. With Shirk, Rod Albright and Bob Nye moving the ball, Gettysburg advanced to the Bucknell three. From this point Bill Triplett blasted off the right guard-tackle slot for the score. This time Shirk's run for the two-point conversion was good and Gettysburg held the 14-0 lead up to intermission.

After both teams played defensive second and third quarters, Gettysburg struck again in the early moments of the final stanza, taking over on their own 33 following a loss on downs by Bucknell. Featured by the passing of Shirk and running of Albright and Nye, the Orange and Blue yearlings climaxed their 67-yard drive with Albright bolting over from the one. Shirk's run was stopped.

Bucknell struck right back with its only score of the day. Following the kickoff the Little Bisons took possession on their 36. Don Lenhard whipped a perfect pass to Bob Marks covering 31 yards and immediately followed with the same pattern, only to the opposite side of the field, hitting Marks again for the 33-yard climax. Lenhard skirted wide around right end for the two-point conversion.

The Gettysburg freshmen are now 2-0 on the season and will attempt to keep their season record clean when they

County Agent Tells Farmers How To Handle Frozen Corn; Can Be Shredded For Silage

By THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

Many farmers had their field corn frozen before it matured. This will result in considerable soft corn this fall. What can be done about it?

There are several alternatives depending on the equipment available on the farm. Mechanical drying, using either heated or unheated air, is the safest method of handling frosted or soft corn if the ears have developed sufficiently to be picked or shelled.

Ear corn should be dried to 20 per cent moisture for crib storage. Shelled corn should be dried to 13 per cent for storage. Remove all husks, silk and other trash to aid drying whether shelled or ear corn.

Farmers who do not have drying facilities can leave corn standing on the stalk as long as drying weather continues in the fall or until serious stalk breaking begins.

Standing corn, after the ears are dried somewhat, can be cut during the driest part of the day with a corn binder and shocked in small shocks for more field drying. The whole plant including ears, leaves and stalks can be shredded for feeding with a forage harvester from the shock.

The harvester can also shred directly from the standing stalk as the feed is needed until bad weather sets in.

FROSTED CORN

Field corn which has been frosted can be made into silage.

The stalk and ears should have some juice in them to ensile properly. It may be necessary to add water as it is being put into the silo. Keep the following points in mind: Soft corn is a valuable feed, it is worth almost as much as ear corn on a dry basis. You just have less feed per acre.

Don't get in a hurry to harvest. Wait until cool weather. Then only harvest what you can handle safely in your feeding program or in well ventilated cribs.

Provide extra crib ventilation for ear corn.

If the corn ear hasn't matured sufficiently for husking, picking or shelling, shred and feed the whole corn plant. Keep in mind additional feed will be needed and this type roughage should be introduced gradually into the feeding program.

EXPLAINS TESTING

DHIA-FT is for you, Mr. Dairyman.

This fall many first calf heifers will be entering the milking herd. In addition to feeding them for production, dairymen should be aware that each new addition to the herd needs extra feed for growth. Without it she may never reach her full size and probably will not produce to her potential level.

A shortage of food nutrients to support both growth and production is not likely to favor one function over the other. The heifer will give a little here and take a little there, but the net effect of insufficient food at this critical time may be a smaller cow when full grown and less milk for lifetime production.

It may take from 2 to 4 pounds of grain to insure enough extra food for growing over that needed for body upkeep and production. The amount will depend on the age of the heifer when fresh.

The best way to handle this situation is to enroll the herd on DHIA-FT. Then as each heifer freshens, the grain recommendations received on the DHIA report will automatically include the amount required for growth. No need to wonder whether to feed 2, 3 or 4 lb.; it will be figured according to the heifer's age.

Check with the Agricultural Extension office or with the DHIA supervisor for details on the DHIA-FT program. There are many plus factors that the program offers in helping to determine total food needs of a milking cow and it can help increase milk production in the herd.

VETERINARY WEEK

October 22 to 28 is Pennsylvania Veterinary Week proclaimed by Governor Scranton to honor the centenary of Veterinary Medicine in America this year.

After the Civil War, Pennsylvania agriculture staggered under the heavy burden of animal disease. Livestock diseases transmissible to humans took a heavy toll. Tuberculosis of cattle and its counterpart in humans was common. Glanders, brucellosis and rabies were serious threats to animals and humans alike. Foot and mouth disease in 1909 destroyed 101 cattle herds in a single outbreak.

Today, nearly 900 veterinarians work in Pennsylvania. They serve in research, regulatory work, practice, teaching, public health and food quality control. Brucellosis and cattle tuberculosis are near eradication. Scabies was officially eradicated this year. There are other diseases worth tackling and plans are being made to take them on. There is no place in the world where the disease situation is better for livestock and poultry production. Pennsylvania citizens can be assured of safe, wholesome animal and poultry products for food.

Use Of Pumpkin Not Confined To Pie; Is Tasty Vegetable

By MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Home Economist

Many pumpkins have already served their purpose as jack-o-lanterns for Halloween. But the pumpkin has other uses.

Pumpkin lends itself to soups, quick breads, and desserts.

It may be cut into strips, pared, and cooked or baked until tender, then seasoned to taste and served hot as a vegetable.

Not only does pumpkin add color and variety to a meal, but it is a rich source of vitamin A. It also contains small amounts of thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin — three of the B vitamins. Besides its vitamins, pumpkin provides some minerals in small amounts.

In combination with milk and eggs, pumpkin custard is rich in nutrients. One serving provides two-thirds of the day's requirement of vitamin A, one-tenth of protein, one-fifth of calcium, and one-tenth of iron, thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin. Few desserts supply so many nutrients in 267 calories.

Look in your cookbooks for recipes using pumpkin. Also you may get recipes at the Agricultural Extension Office, 111 Baltimore St., Gettysburg Pa.

BUY EGGS BY GRADE

For assurance of quality, buy graded eggs.

Pennsylvania has established standards for judging quality. Candling, a method for examining the interior of the egg without breaking the shell, determines quality. Trained eyes judge the condition of the yolk, the white, and size of air cells as eggs are passed in front of a light. Eggs not meeting prescribed standards are removed.

Quality begins before eggs are laid. Breeding of carefully selected birds produces chicks with the greatest potential for developing into good layers. Poultrymen feed balanced rations and provide good house-keeping for their laying flocks. To maintain the golden goodness of fresh-laid eggs, producers gather often and keep them cool. During early fall, pullets are beginning to lay and their first eggs are small. Prices for small eggs often are more favorable than for larger sizes.

STRIPED MEN'S SHIRTS

Stripes in dress shirts represent the strongest fashion trend in men's shirts since the button-down collar.

Stripes are not confined to a single segment of style. Striped shirts meet enthusiastic acceptance from men who wear traditional, contemporary, or conventional middle-of-the-road styles.

Stripes are good in all the popular shirt fabrics, including oxfords, broadcloths, and chambrays. Another reason for the popularity of stripes may be the many and varied types.

Striped shirts show up in all collar styles. Button-downs, tabs, spreads, wide spreads, and rollspreads get good acceptance in both regular band and high-band treatments. Many dressy-style shirts feature French cuffs.

Stripes are as bold in color as they are in pattern. Red, ranging from medium to deep oxblood tones, is one of the most popular colors. Blues, browns, olives, deep grays, and black are also handsome in striped shirts.

A good fashion rule is to save all-white shirts for after-six wear and show stripes during the day.

CHOICE OF SINKS

Although stainless steel sinks are the choice of many families, other types of sinks are available.

One type sometimes overlooked is the acid-resistant enameled cast iron sink. It's a good quality sink, comes in a range of colors as well as white. Not to be confused with enameled cast iron is porcelain enameled steel, a less expensive type also in color. Enameled steel has never been so popular as the better quality enameled cast iron sink.

In areas where the line content of water is very high, families will find enameled cast-iron sinks a satisfactory investment. Many women object to the white deposit left on stainless steel. It takes extra wiping to keep the shine on stainless steel, but it's easy to remove the lime deposit from enameled cast iron.

Colored sinks come in double and single types, in drainboard types, and in units for countertop installation. Where a scheme in appliance is planned, a matching sink may be more pleasing to some families than a stainless steel one.

Littlestown Is Thriving, Progressive Community; New Developments

PUPIL DEFENDS MODERN YOUTH IN CLASSESAY

In an attempt to answer a popular question "What do young people think about today?" M. Charles Rebert, English instructor at Littlestown High School, assigned the subject to Eleventh Grade pupils.

The result is "a dozen or more outstanding essays on topics of the day—local and national," Rebert says.

One was written by Miss Becky Keagy and is entitled, "Are we the Tense Generation?" It follows in full:

"No! I definitely think that we are not the tense generation! The majority of teens today are clean-cut American citizens. We are religious and are well aware of the world's situations. We may give a carefree air and pretend it really is not anything to worry about—but deep down we are concerned and maybe a little scared. We teens of the 60's know this great nation will someday be in our hands and that one from our ranks will be its leader. This is something that is strong enough to scare anyone into trying to do his very best. Our best can be accomplished everywhere—not just in school. We can show our willingness to cooperate and conform by participating in church, civic, and other fields open to us, while we are young and eager to learn.

WANT CHAPERONES

"Another point in my argument is that most teens feel embarrassed when we have a dance or social activity and there are chaperones. We moan and groan about not being left alone, we are old enough to take care of ourselves. But, most of us are really glad that there are parents, teachers, and neighbors who care enough and are interested enough to want to see that we enjoy ourselves and to supervise those individuals who need supervision!

"The group that has given us the title of 'The Tense Generation' is by far in the minority. They say the cause of all our trouble is because we have extra time on our hands. But it is our own fault that we have all the extra time. We say we want money. Well, all teens want money and we get it—but not by stealing and cheating and lying. So teen-agers are persuaded to get jobs. They do this but soon get tired of the 8 to 5 working routine. This then leads to a self-pity and a why-did-it-have-to-happen-to-me attitude! Once this is imprinted on that kind of teen-ager his desires for fun become stronger than his desires and need for work, and this leads him to stealing, taking dope, and sexual delinquency.

"To summarize, I would like to know why the entire teen-age population is being accused of being wild because of a few who are unmanageable. This attitude is unfair and the sooner the public recognizes the good teens can do, and not just the bad, this idea of 'tenseness' will be forgotten and the tense adults can relax!"

When you are broiling or baking whole small fish, the heads and tails can be removed or not—just as you wish.

Knicks Win First Of 5 Cage Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Knicks won just 21 of 80 games in the National Basketball Association last season. At the rate they are going in the opening weeks of the current campaign they are liable to wind up this season with only 16.

After losing their first four the Knicks came through with their initial victory of the season Friday night, 136-112 over the Philadelphia 76ers. At this pace they will win two of every 10 games and finish the 80-game campaign with a 16-64 won-lost record.

The Los Angeles Lakers whipped the Cincinnati Royals 122-109 in Friday's other scheduled NBA game.

OUST FIREMEN FOR PICKETING FOR MORE PAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Firemen are openly defying city warnings not to picket Mayor James Tate's election headquarters, despite a rash of suspensions.

Fire Commissioner Frank L. McNamara told 31 more firemen Friday they will be dismissed for demonstrating against the mayor in a dispute on pay raises.

The new firings bring to 52 the number suspended with notice of intention to dismiss. The group includes one man with 22 years' service and two others with 20 years.

Nonetheless, firemen demonstrated again at the "Citizens for Tate" headquarters.

KEEP PICKETING

James J. Forbes, president of the Fire Fighters Union and one of the 21 dismissed Thursday said the demonstrations will continue. Forbes met with representatives of the 40,000-member Delaware Valley Maritime Trades Port Council, reportedly to discuss a mass protest march by union members against Tate. McNamara said he based the dismissals on violations of the city home rule charter and civil service regulations which prohibit political activity by city employees.

The firemen picketed the mayor Thursday as he made a side-walk speech in front of the headquarters. On Friday, about 100 firemen, accompanied by their wives and children, demonstrated with placards demanding a salary increase.

The firemen are asking for a $1,210 increase. The city is offering $400 to those making up to $5,615 and $200 to those earning more.

See No Immediate Relief From Pennsylvania Drought

HARRISBURG (AP)—Fickle Ginny, the wrong-way hurricane, is Pennsylvania's only hope of drought-quenching rains in the immediate future, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

"And there's only a slight, little glimmer right now," meteorologist Paul Sutton said Friday night.

"If it comes, we'll get an inch of rain or more," he said, adding: "It would help some communities suffering from water shortages and would remove the present danger of forest fires."

The state's fire-prone forests and woodlands have been closed more than a week to hunters and fishermen.

The state Game Commission said Friday it will consider extending hunting and trapping seasons once the statewide ban is lifted.

HUNTING BAN

H. L. Buchanan of Franklin, commission president, said: "Although the ban against hunting must be continued until sufficient rainfall reduces the threat of fire in Pennsylvania fields and forests, we will still follow the commission's long-standing policy of providing maximum hunting opportunity for Pennsylvania hunters."

The small game season was scheduled to open Nov. 2.

Meanwhile, the Health Department reported that five more communities have been forced to turn to emergency sources of water supply in order to counter shortage problems.

26 GET PERMITS

This raises to 26 the number of communities to receive department permits to tap the emergency sources.

The new communities and their emergency sources are: Pond Bank Improvement Association, Guilford Twp., Franklin County, a quarry; Lock Haven, Clinton County, Bald Eagle Creek; Municipal Authority of Blythe Twp., Schuylkill County, a strip mine pit; Weatherly Water Co., Carbon County, the borough lake, and Orangeville, Columbia County, a drilled well. TWO MISHAPS MAR AIRLIFT

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Tanks and trucks of the 2nd Armored Division whose men arrived in exercise Big Lift, rolled toward an assembly area near Frankfurt today, their smooth progress marred only by two accidents with civilian automobiles.

Two Germans were taken to a hospital after their small French-made automobile collided almost head-on with a tank on a highway near Darmstadt. The car was demolished.

In the second accident, an Italian-made compact car collided with a 10-ton truck near Mannheim. No one was injured.

The accidents occurred as the division finished its job of drawing heavy equipment from stockpiles and moved toward the assembly area in preparation for war games next week.

The Army said that the division, lifted from Texas earlier this week in an unprecedented long-range move by air, completed the equipment-drawing phase Friday night — 87 hours from the time the first transport left Ft. Hood, Tex.

Costume prizes will be awarded for the funniest, prettiest, ugliest and most original attire. Refreshments will be served. Arrangements are in charge of Cubmaster Alvah Stonesifer and the den mothers.

It was reported that work has been completed on enclosing the side porch of the post home to be used as a storage place for hospital equipment. A moment of silence was observed in memory of Robert W. (Bud) Long.

One new member, Robert M. Ripka, was enrolled. The post will take part in the Gettysburg Veterans Day observance November 10 with a color guard. Ralph R. Ruggles will be in charge of the guard. The post will also participate in the community Veterans Day service.

The Legionnaires will hold a steak dinner next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the post home. The next meeting will be held November 14 at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served by Claude E. Snyder and Elmer W. M. Duttera.

Rockefeller Determined To Achieve Nomination Despite GOP Grumblings

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is a companion story to Thursday's Washington summary of Sen. Barry Goldwater's status as a potential Republican presidential candidate Robert Gray, who writes about Nelson A. Rockefeller, has covered his five years as New York governor and accompanied him on many campaign trips.)

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY N.Y. (AP) — "If Dartmouth can come from behind and win in the fourth quarter, then why can't we?" Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller asked a small band of his New Hampshire supporters in ringing, peppy fashion at a private dinner.

His audience understood and cheered the football game Rockefeller used to describe his present role in the contest for the Republican nomination for president—that of optimistic underdog.

Most of them had watched a few hours earlier as Dartmouth Rockefeller's alma mater, defeated Holy Cross in the last five minutes of their game. A hard-driving offense and some razzle-dazzle football did the trick.

HOPES FOR VICTORY

New York's millionaire governor hopes for a parallel development in his political contest with Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—that he can come from far behind and win the Republican nomination for president.

The governor is mounting a hard-driving offensive and employing a few razzle-dazzle tactics himself.

Elaborate strategy, platoons of advisers, tacticians, aides and field troops, substantial sums of money and some delicate decisions about the place of Mrs. Rockefeller in the campaign are other factors of the Rockefeller political operation.

But even his warmest admirers concede privately that the prospects remain bleak.

POLLS SHOW LAG

Every poll of significance shows Rockefeller trailing far behind Goldwater in New Hampshire, which will be the first testing ground in the fight for the nomination, and in the nation at large.

Rockefeller has been having trouble recruiting Republicans of national stature to work for

To many national GOP leaders whose support is essential, Rockefeller long has been a frequent source of dismay. His political views, the surprising developments in his private life and his harsh comments on the conduct of party affairs have alienated potential supporters.

Why, then, does he persist in his quest of the nomination? What makes him think he can overturn the tradition that no divorced man ever gained the White House and that he can turn back the wave of conservatism that many Republicans see as their party's only hope of winning in 1964?

STRONG DETERMINATION

Rockefeller continues in his quest because of a desire for a place among the world figures who make the decisions affecting the course of national and global history.

After 15 years in appointive posts in government, Rockefeller eventually realized that the big decisions were made by those who took the risks in politics. So, in 1958, he turned to active politics as a step toward his goal and achieved a governorship.

If he is reaching so high, why did he jeopardize his political future by divorce and then a second marriage to a woman 19 years his junior, the divorced mother of four children?

The answer to that lies in the deep belief of Rockefeller and his advisers in the power of high strategy, timing and public relations.

MARRIAGE TIMED

The remarriage last May was delayed until after the governor took office for a new term but was timed well in advance of the 1964 presidential activity. The theory was that the impact of the remarriage on the public would have softened by the time the governor began pursuing the nomination.

Now, Mrs. Rockefeller appears to be part of the grand strategy. She has a prominent role in his campaigning at this stage and appears with her husband at political gatherings, in reception lines and at the many dinners that are part of the campaign ritual.

The strategy now calls for the governor and his wife to meet with Republican leaders and let them hear Rockefeller's political views, get a firsthand look at his famed, grassroots campaign techniques, chat with Mrs. Rockefeller and form their own conclusions on the couple they have heard so much about.

AWARE OF GOP CRITICS

There is no hard sell, no direct appeal for support.

Rockefeller is aware that his liberal views have brought Republican grumbling that he would be a "me-too" candidate. He told New Hampshire voters that he had "fundamental, philosophical differences with President Kennedy and his administration."

In other talks, Rockefeller criticized Goldwater for advocating U.S. withdrawal from the United Nations and abolition of foreign aid.

In those statements Rockefeller was adopting a middle-of-the-road position between the Democratic President and the conservative Republican leader. This appeared to be a reaction to the view of some Republicans that Goldwater is too far to the right and Rockefeller too far to the left.

NEW HAMPSHIRE FIRST

The New Hampshire presidential-preference primary next March 10 will be the first in the nation. A defeat for Rockefeller could be the death of his political ambitions. A victory could be a turning point in an endeavor not marked by much initial success.

While Rockefeller concentrates on the personal approach in the preliminary phase of his campaign, the behind-the-scenes political operation is directed by an extensive staff in New York City.

A key man is George L. Hinman, a corporation lawyer turned political strategist. Hinman, from upstate Binghamton N.Y., is Rockefeller's national agent.

Hinman, polished and diplomatic, has been moving about the country quietly, contacting GOP state leaders and urging them to make no commitments until they have given Rockefeller a fair hearing.

Hinman has given assurances that Rockefeller will run and there will be no repetition of 1959, when the governor withdrew abruptly from national politics, abandoning many of his early backers.

Teams of specialists, such as Henry Kissinger of the Harvard Center for International Affairs, help Rockefeller turn out policy statements. They concern such matters as nuclear testing, the national economy and the drain on the nation's gold reserves.

The Rockefeller operation on the road also is an elaborate one. Eight staff members accompanied him to New Hampshire, and five preceded him there to oversee preparations.

He is paying almost all the cost of the campaign out of his own pocket, although some of his aides are on the state payroll.

Rockefeller seeks to avoid charges that taxpayers are financing his presidential activity. He travels in the Rockefeller family's private, 22-passenger airplane which has a fulltime crew of three.

He has centralized extensive executive offices of state government and his private, political operation in one Manhattan building owned by him.

TITO BOARDS SHIP TO SAIL FOR HOMELAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Yugoslavia's President Tito boarded a ship for home today, with a farewell both of cheers and slurs. But the sailing itself was delayed, with reports of a bomb scare aboard ship.

Surrounded by security guards, Tito walked up the gangway while about 200 well-wishers applauded and chanted, "Tito, Tito, Tito."

But a short distance away, held back by police barricades, another group of about 15 pickets held flying balloons painted with signs such as "Tito Pig," "Hang Tito" and "Tito murderer."

DELAY SAILING

The ship, the Dutch liner Rotterdam, was scheduled to sail at noon, but its departure was delayed, amid reports that the reason was a warning that a bomb had been planted aboard.

Hundreds of uniformed police, and at least 100 New York detectives, were on hand in the area, along with security forces of the State Department and of

Encephalitis Hits Yanks In Pacific

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — At least two Americans have died in an epidemic of encephalitis — sleeping sickness — in Okinawa and the other Ryukyu Islands.

Ryukyuan health authorities say 123 cases have been reported and 21 of them have died.

The latest American victim was Army Spec.5 James W. Gregory, 28, of New York City, who died Tuesday. The Army refused to say if any more of its personnel had been stricken, but the 3rd Marine Division reported five cases and one death.

The U.S. Air Force reported two cases and no fatalities. The Navy said none of its personnel had been affected.

Yugoslavia's diplomatic agencies.

High police officials and several firemen boarded the ship in the wake of bomb reports.

Despite the tension around his departure, as well as his stay here, Tito said his visit had been a gratifying one, and that his talks with President Kennedy had been "very useful."

ENJOYED VISIT

Before going up the gangplank he read a short statement. Of the meetings with Kennedy, he said:

"I am convinced that our talks will contribute to better mutual understanding, that they will have a favorable impact on the relations between our countries in the interest of our peoples, and will further preserve peace and promote peaceful international cooperation."

FLUORIDE CUTS CELL GROWTH

LONDON (AP) — Two medical researchers say they have found laboratory evidence that the growth of human cells is slowed by sodium fluoride. They called for more research into the effects of fluoridation of water supplies.

The results were reported in the British Medical Journal, organ of the British Medical Association, by Dr. Roger Berry, an Oxford University radio biologist, and Wilfred Trillwood, director of pharmaceutical services for an Oxford hospital.

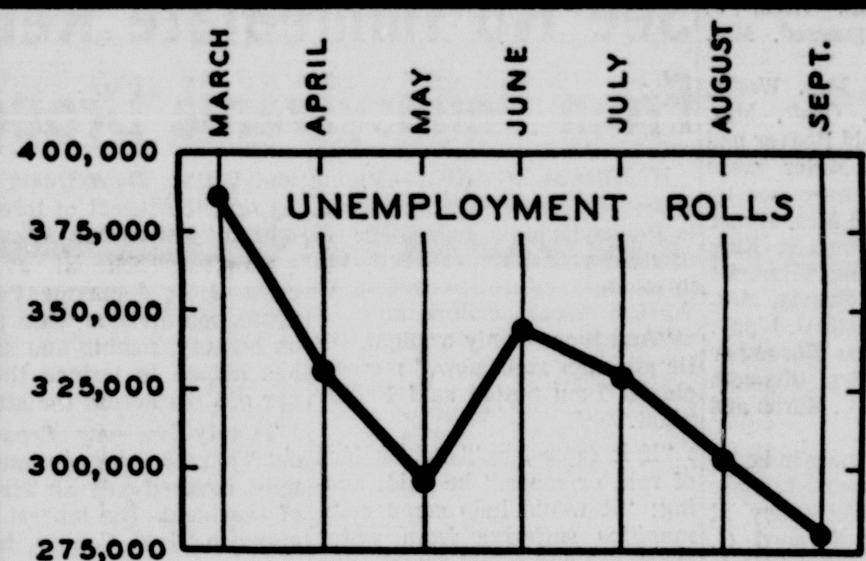

The sodium fluoride used in their experiments, they said, was only one twentieth the strength of that in fluoridated drinking water. But they added that their results did not necessarily mean that fluoridation of water is unsafe.

Fluoridation of water as a means of reducing tooth decay has been a matter of considerable controversy in both the United States and Britain.

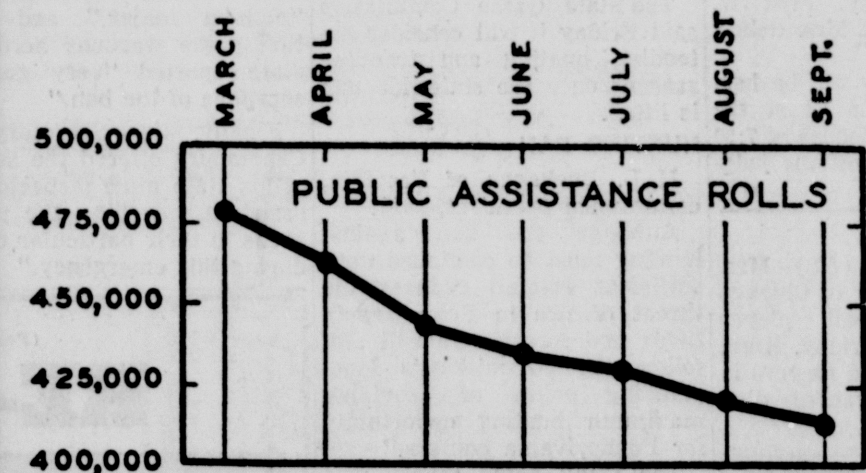

If you've opened a can of water chestnuts and have some left over, cover them with water in a jar cover and refrigerate. You can keep them for several days at least if you change the water daily.

SCRANTON IS NOT OBLIGED TO AID DRAFT

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton put his finger on a word the other day that will loom large in any final decision he makes about the Republican presidential nomination. The word is duty.

The governor used it this way at his Oct. 17 news conference: "I do not see that it is my duty to be interested in a draft (for the GOP nomination) or to be aiding a abutting same."

When Scranton spoke of duty in that context he obviously was not referring to any obligation imposed by his rank as governor, for there is no such obligation.

PERSONAL CONNOTATION

Instead, it would appear he used the word in a personal sense, a personal concept of duty beyond the governor's office.

For Scranton boosts the governor's statement pinpointed one of their tasks—to convince the governor it is his duty to seek the GOP nomination, or get him to convince himself.

Friends and colleagues of the governor are hustling around quietly to keep the Scranton name with the most-likely-prospects quintet that includes U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.; Michigan Gov. George Romney; New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 1960 GOP presidential candidate. None has announced his candidacy.

Activity by friends and colleagues of Scranton does not have his sanction. But at the same time he hasn't asked anybody to lay off, as far as is known.

NIXON ADVICE

Nixon told Pennsylvania newsmen two weeks ago that this is the time for a prospective candidate to make up his mind whether he will put himself in a position to get the nomination. That doesn't mean a public announcement, said Nixon. But it does mean the prospect has to start directing his public actions and statements toward the goal.

Specifically, it means the prospect must address himself more to foreign affairs and national domestic policy. It means he must schedule more appearances outside of his home state.

Goldwater and Rockefeller are following that drill. Romney and Scranton aren't moving around

STATE DEMOS LEAD GOP IN REGISTRATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—Official figures for the Nov. 5 election completed Friday showed a total of 5,466,718 voters are registered with Democrats leading Republicans by 83,013.

The registration figures showed Republicans have 2,656,403 voters registered for the election and Democrats have 2,739,416. The remainder of the registered voters are independents and other parties.

The Democratic lead of 83,013 compared to a lead of 85,325 for the May 21 primary. Preliminary figures had indicated Democrats had increased their lead, but those figures did not include much. But then Goldwater and Rockefeller have given every sign they will mean business at the San Francisco convention. Scranton, Nixon and Romney boosters are counting on a deadlock to put their candidates in the spotlight.

That assumes, of course, their prospects are willing to step out of the wings.

totals from Montgomery County, a key Republican stronghold. In that county the GOP increased its registration by 4,288 while Democrats picked up only 1,761.

LOSE ERIE COUNTY

The GOP was slightly disappointed in Erie County where they had expected to take a slight lead in registration from the Democrats. But final figures showed the Democrats still held a paper-thin margin of 156 votes. The Democratic edge for last spring's primary was 701.

A breakdown of party registration showed Republicans had 1,370,001 women enrolled and 1,286,402 men. Democrats had 1,378,247 women and 1,361,169 men.

The GOP increased its men's registration by 12,198 from the May primary and women's registration increased 19,835.

The Democrats increased their men's registration by 9,803 and women's registration by 20,018. Over all Republicans picked up 32,033 in registration and Democrats increased 29,821.

The registration increase for all voters was 64,854.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

MATTHEW DILL, THE YOUNGER

The historical and genealogical account of the Dill family of Northern Ireland and Monaghan Township in what is now York County, Pennsylvania, is continued at this time.

Sometime after 1778, not too long after the death of his first wife, Jane (Bracken) Dill, the daughter of Thomas and Martha (Green) Bracken, Colonel Matthew (2) Dill married Susanna Waugh, the "widow and relict" of William Waugh. The second Mrs. Matthew Dill had entered the "holy bonds" twice before, a somewhat unusual state of affairs for that day and age. Her first husband, according to a fairly reliable tradition, was one (?) McKee and the second, William Waugh. Colonel Matthew Dill was the third and last husband of the three-widowed Susanna, and she outlived him by some four years.

SIX CHILDREN

In her will, which was written May 13, 1815, and entered to probate December 30, 1818, Susanna (Moffatt) McKee — Waugh — Dill mentions her children (all apparently born to her second marriage) as follows:

Daughter — Polly Waugh intermarried with John Kerr.

Daughter — Susanna Waugh intermarried with Thomas McKee.

Son — Samuel Waugh.

Daughter — Nancy Waugh intermarried with William King.

Son — William Waugh.

Son — James Waugh. Colonel Matthew Dill "the younger" was a somewhat notable man and held quite a few outstanding positions. He was recognized before the Revolution, during that struggle and afterwards as a man of marked ability.

As early as April 7, 1749, Matthew (2) Dill, with his father, Captain Matthew (1) Dill, and other frontier inhabitants, signed a petition for a road — to run from McAllister's Hill to York, Penna. In October 1764 he was commissioned a justice of York County and continued in that office until the adoption of the Pennsylvania Constitution in 1776.

SERVED IN ARMY

Colonel (2) Dill entered the military service July 28, 1775, a lieutenant colonel of the Fifth Battalion of Pennsylvania Militia. A short time later, he became colonel of the Associated Battalions of York County, Pennsylvania, with his brother-in-law, Colonel Richard McAllister. He was a delegate to the Military Congress held at Lancaster, Pa., July 4, 1776, to choose brigadier generals for the Associated Battalions for state.

The first Constitutional Convention of Pennsylvania was held July 15, 1776, and Matthew (2) Dill "was appointed among the young esquires to be a Justice of the Peace from York County."

For his services in the Revolution Colonel Matthew (2) Dill was, according to custom, awarded grants of land. In 1786 he patented in Washington County, Pennsylvania, a tract of land upon which his son, Thomas (2) Dill, already resided with his family.

Colonel (2) Matthew Dill was elected one of the delegates from York County, Pennsylvania, to the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia, Pa. He was present to answer the first roll call, November 24, 1789, and remained until all business was concluded—February 26, 1790.

Some additional data pertaining to the children of Colonel Matthew (2) and Jane (or Jean) Bracken Dill has but recently been unearthed and is herewith included because of its historical and genealogical value: —

1. Matthew (3) Dill — born about 1746 and died after 1829. During the War of the American Revolution he was an ensign in Captain William Coulson's Company the Sixth Battalion, York County Militia, 1799.

2. James (3) Dill — born about 1748 — died, probably at the Revolutionary Battle of Brandywine, September 11, 1777. He (James 3) was a first lieutenant in Colonel Hartley's Regiment.

3. Thomas (3) Dill — born July 1750 — died of cholera at Yellow Creek, Ohio, in July 1833.

4. Mary (3) Dill — born — died — married — Williams.

5. Martha (3) Dill — born — died — married — Dixon.

6. John (3) Dill — born — died after 1812 unmarried.

7. Armstrong (3) Dill — a physician and a graduate of Princeton College. Born 1761, died December 31, —. He married Ann —, who, after the death of her first husband, married Dr. John Witherspoon of Philadelphia. Witherspoon was the president of Princeton College (now University) and had been a signer of the Declaration of Independence. After his death Anna Dill-Witherspoon married for the third time.

In the old Monaghan Presbyterian section of the present Dillsburg Cemetery, in the Dill family lot, is the grave of Dr. Armstrong Dill. The inscription cut thereon reads as follows (large flat slab covering entire grave):

"Sacred to the memory of Dr. Armstrong Dill — Who departed this life — December 31st, 1788 — Aged 27 years — being cut down in the prime of life his death proclaims to all — Be ye therefore ready also for the Son of Man cometh at any hour when ye think not."

8. Nancy (3) Dill — born 1763, died October 5, 1853, married John Armor.

9. Abigail (3) Dill, born — died — married Adam (?) Ritchey.

10. George (3) Dill — born — died after his father's death, married ?.

11. Jean (3) Dill — born — died — married John Calhoun.

12. Elizabeth (3) Dill — born — died — married Thomas Sanderson.

(Note: To judge from appearances there are quite a few unmarked graves — probably some never boasted a grave-stone in the Dill burial plot. Due to lack of records it will probably never be known, with any degree of accuracy, just who are interred therein.)

Matthew (3) Dill, son of Colonel Matthew (2) and grandson of Captain Matthew (1) Dill, was born in York County, Pa., and died at Dillsburg, York County, Pennsylvania, after 1829. He was first married about 1780, to Ann Crane, the daughter of Richard Crane and granddaughter of William and Jean Crane of County Down, Ireland, who came to America in 1732.

Matthew (3) Dill married second, after the death of Ann (Crane) Dill, one Mary McCartney. Both are buried in a private burial ground on the Matthew (3) Dill farm.

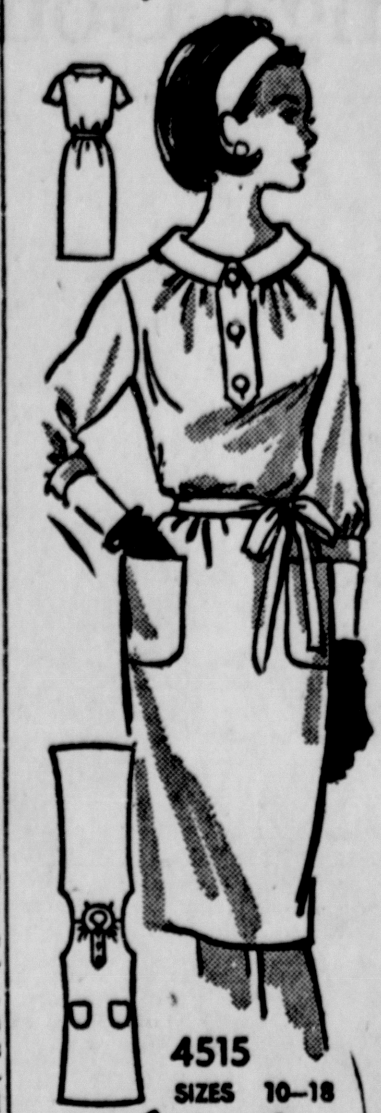

The Dill family notes will be continued in this column next week.

POPULARITY OF COMMERCIALS ON TV CHECKED

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—An advertising research company has collected an impressive body of material indicating that the popularity—or unpopularity—of a television commercial does not necessarily relate to its effectiveness in selling the product.

However, the company (Schwering) occasionally takes an audience sampling of commercials' popularity. A recent one, in which 579 persons were polled in New York, suggested that the 10 most popular area commercials are those for a fizzy stomach-settler (Alka-Seltzer), three brands of beer (Ballantine, Piel's, Schlitz), a dog food (Gravy Train), a soft drink (Hawaiian Punch), a soap powder (Ivory Snow), a chocolate cookie (Cleo) and canned fish (Star-Kist Tuna). Most liked by men was a cartoon beer commercial (Piel), a favorite with women was a cartoon for canned fish.

ANOTHER DOCUMENTARY

Now that NBC has shown its hour-long dramatized documentary, "Manhattan Battleground," it is CBS' turn to show social work at its best.

The NBC show last Sunday showed a field worker in New York City slums. The season premiere of "20th Century" next Sunday will show a field worker in the Chicago slums.

And, of course, there's "East Side, West Side" and its social workers every Monday night. All in all, it looks like a big season for the profession.

Everything's Going Dry Except Amazing Marsh Creek; It Carries On

Water, its shortage or its abundance, has become the topic of conversation throughout the county. A visit to various sites Friday afternoon showed the following results. (1) Middle Creek at Fairfield continues as dry as it has been most of the summer. (2) More rocks than usual are showing at Knoxlyn bridge, looking east, but Marsh Creek is still flowing and the water ripples among the rocks. (3) The amazing Marsh Creek, source of Gettysburg's water supply, continues to fill the town's needs and the newly completed dam of the Gettysburg Municipal Authority seen in the foreground, with Sachs' bridge in the background, near which the water works obtains its supply, has filled so that water began to trickle over the spillway shown at right. Since the new dam is about two feet higher than the old dam, the water is higher than it would be normally and the amount at the dam is at least twice what it was before the last rain. (4) A close-up of the smaller spillway on the north side of the new dam. The water reached the level where it could spill over the dam about noon Friday. Meantime many other streams in the area are "bone dry." Wiltoughby Run just north of Marsh Creek is dry, although it had some water near the Fairfield Rd. Rock Creek is also dry in spots. And in the eastern part of the county many families are reported carrying water where wells have gone dry. (Times photos)

Alaska Seeks Funds To Open Famous Old Chilkoot Trail

SKAGWAY, Alaska (AP) — The historic Chilkoot Trail, cursed and clogged by thousands of stampeding goldseekers at the turn of the century, is suffering the pangs of rebirth.

From nearby Dyea, once the jumping-off place for many on their way to the Yukon goldfields but now a dead and decaying ghost town, to its 3,739-foot summit, the old trail is taking on a new look.

With an eye upon the important tourist dollar, the state in 1961 started restoring the old trail, using honor prisoners from the Wasilla Youth Camp and state jails, on a voluntary basis.

Portions of the trail obliterated by slides, washouts and brush have been rebuilt and new footbridges, to ease the way for hiking tourists, have been constructed over streams the gold stampeders slogged through without as much as a second thought.

CRUMBLING REMAINS

Only the crumbling remains of a few old false-fronted buildings and the vestiges of what once was one of the busiest docks on the Pacific Coast mark the site of old Dyea.

The killing blow to the bustling city was the discovery of an easier, lower route through the Coast Range, White Pass, which started from Skagway.

The construction of a narrow gauge railroad, which still carries freight from tidewater at Skagway into the interior of British Columbia, was the final nail in the coffin of Dyea and the Chilkoot Trail.

Skagway grew and prospered, while Dyea slowly withered away. Even the huge Olympic Hotel, a wooden structure which once occupied a full, square block in Dyea and boasted 426 rooms, is gone.

SLIDE GRAVEYARD

One of the few reminders of the city that used to be is a newly restored "slide graveyard," one phase of the state's Chilkoot Trail work.

Records kept in the "Trail of '98 Museum" in Skagway, a stunning collection of Gold Rush information and items, indicate the slide swept down on Sheep Camp on April 3, 1898, and claimed the lives of 49 men and one woman, Mrs. A. U. Maxon.

The inscription on the marker above Mrs. Maxon's grave says she came all the way from "Punzataney, Pa.," apparently a misspelling of Punxsutawney, to die in the snows of Alaska.

As the Yukon rush faded, Skagway's fortunes also dipped, but, with the state restoring the old Chilkoot Trail, Skagway is now making the past her present.

AMA And FDA Hit Quackery While Fending NFH Barbs

By JOHN BARBOUR
WASHINGTON (AP)—Attacks on everything from Krebiozen to "Farmer Brown's Master Cell" opened the second National Congress on Medical Quackery Friday.

It set the stage for a curious, furious round-robin.
The Food and Drug Administration distributed a letter attacking an organization called the National Health Federation.

TWO MILES APART
The federation opened its own meeting at a hotel two miles away. Spokesmen said it would offer rebuttals to the quackery congress' sponsors, and its first speaker attacked both of them.

Since both the American Medical Association and FDA were sponsoring the quackery congress, the circle was completed.

From the quackery congress came these voices:
Dr. Edward R. Annis, president of AMA: "I am sure that what we do in the next day and a half will help to keep the quacks on the defensive."

FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick: "There is only one way to approach the problem of quackery and that is to go after it aggressively and persistently."

HITS AMA, FDA
At the federation's "First National Congress on Health Monopoly," the first speaker was Dr. Miles Robinson of Potomac, Md.

He said in a prepared address: "The least we can do is to forbid the AMA to take money from drug companies. This conflict of interest is deadly to the American people, and must be eliminated."

"We must pull the Food and Drug Administration out of the AMA's hip pocket, and require the FDA to treat any licensed health practitioner with the consideration his license entitles him to. Let the FDA act more as an educating agency, and less as a gestapo police force."

MOVES AGAINST QUACKERY
At the quackery congress, FDA Commissioner Larrick cited a number of devices, food fads and other products, which FDA has stymied.

He said he could mention only a few of FDA's actions against quackery in the past two years, since the last congress:
"We proceeded against half a dozen kinds of bottled ocean water which hit the market after a medical columnist wrote a testimonial about the benefits experienced by his 96-year-old father."

MANY CASES PENDING
He said many more cases are pending in court and under investigation. No description was given of "Farmer Brown's Master Cell" when it was listed.

Dr. Annis brought up Krebiozen, recently ruled by the government to be ineffective as a cancer cure. Sometimes, he said, doctors—"under constant pressure by the patient or his family, use a treatment which has not been found to be effective by the medical community."

Using Krebiozen as an example, he pointed out that the AMA found it ineffective some 12 years ago—but the sales of the drug continued.

MUSEUM FACES REMOVAL FROM COOPER UNION

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor
NEW YORK, (AP)—A famous education institution, The Cooper Union, is faced with a dilemma about a worthy, but specialized, museum which has been under its wing since 1897.

The answer may be that the museum will be discontinued, and its collections "relocated" in other museums—preferably in the New York area.

Cooper Union was founded in 1859 by inventor Peter Cooper as a free-tuition educational institution. It now has approximately 1,000 students, about equally divided between the School of Engineering and the School of Art and Architecture. Hundreds more attend adult education activities.

FOUNDED 1859
The museum is called "The Museum for the Arts of Decoration." Two granddaughters of the founder, Sarah Cooper Hewitt and Eleanor Garnier Hewitt, were largely responsible for assembling its collections, beginning in the 1890's.

With additions from other donors, the museum now has nearly 100,000 items. Their value is in the millions, but no one has made even an approximate estimate.

Primarily there are prints, textiles, wallpapers, ceramics and glass, plus everything from jewelry, furniture and ironwork to birdcages.

There's the rub. The collections are in the decorative arts. "Over the years our Art School has grown away from the decorative arts," says Cooper Union's president, Dr. Richard F. Humphreys. "It has become a school for the fine arts. Our arts faculty reports the students are using this museum no more than they are using other New York museums for their study."

Then there is the question of operating costs. With curators, assistants, clerks and guards, the museum has a score of people on its staff. Cooper Union subsists on endowment and alumni contributions, and nearly all the museum's tight budget has to come out of the general educational fund.

SELDOM USED
Furthermore, as Dr. Humphreys puts it, "for various reasons the museum—though it is a 'working museum' for specialists—is not heavily used by the public. We are, said to be off the beaten path, away from the museums that are located uptown."

The museum, on the fourth floor of the original Cooper Union building, now is closed to the general public, though designers, researchers and scholars still can work there, while a study is being made with the help of members of the staff of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Mainly this study is to determine the possibilities of placing the various collections in other locations.

"To the extent possible," says Dr. Humphreys, "this would be within the city of New York. We have an obligation to serve the people of this city.

"It also would be important to keep each collection intact—all the textiles to remain together, for example," he continued.

If the study shows "relocation" of the collections to be advisable, Dr. Humphreys said, "we hope to recover some of their value from whatever sources receive them."

He said that if dollars were the only consideration, "we would get a greater return at a series of public auctions over a period of say five years. But if some museum could benefit from a certain collection, and was able to reimburse us for only a fraction of its estimated worth, we think it would be better to have the collection go to that museum."

Dr. Humphreys mentioned no specific places that might receive the collections. But counting art museums, historical institutions, specialized museums and schools, there would be several dozen locations in the Greater New York area that might be considered.

The Big-Time Welcomes Another MacRae "My Three Sons" Get Girl Interest

The new girl on ABC-TV's "My Three Sons" is brown-eyed Meredith MacRae, who's playing Tim Considine's romantic interest. Off-screen they're just good friends. She credits him with giving her a good tip on acting.

By RUTH E. THOMPSON
Something new has been added to brighten the fourth season of ABC's "My Three Sons," family comedy starring Fred MacMurray . . . it's a prospective daughter-in-law portrayed by Meredith MacRae (brown-eyed, honey-blonde daughter of Gordon and Sheila MacRae) who had to become a college dropout to take the job. It's her only tinge of regret, though. Otherwise, she's as starry-eyed and valuable as becomes a 19-year old who's landed a plum in a major series. "I just love our show," she keeps bubbling, "I'm so lucky."

ISN'T JUST LUCK
But it isn't just luck. And it certainly wasn't pull either . . . because on audition-day she brainwashed herself not to mention her parents, not an easy thing for her to do because she looks up to them so.

"Look I'll prove I'm lucky," she said. "It can be tough for a girl who wants to be an actress and thinks it's all glamorous clothes and dates every night. Coming from a show business family I know it's no bed of roses and that you have to work."

Then a smile sparkled around her lovely young rose-gold face, molded like her mother's slender but heart-shaped. "Why last night daddy sent me home before midnight because he knew I had to be busy this morning." She's come to New York to catch their act at the Waldorf-Astoria. They were currently on supper-club hours, work late, sleep late. "They were going out afterwards with Jack Carter and Steve Lawrence and Edyie Gorme."

HAD NO CHOICE

"And I had no choice but to wear mink last night," she giggled "but only because I hadn't realized it would be so cold and I borrowed mother's. But I wouldn't be caught dead in it in California. I love clothes, yes, but I like to be suitably dressed and in my crowd 19-year-olds just don't wear mink. I did get a white fox stole for Christmas but that's my only fur." Her two Borgana coats ("an old light one") and "a new short dark one") fill the bill nicely, thank you.

"No I'm not wearing rouge.

It's my own color. I just wear pastel peach lipstick and eye makeup. At home we live an outdoor life. The whole family goes in for skin diving."

SOUND VALUES

You quickly realize that when she's leary of the word "glamour" it's just that she herself has a pretty sound set of values and is leary of superficialities.

Meredith goes into "My Three Sons" with a pretty good list of credits. In addition to appearing on Dinah Shore's Show with her folks, and in a record album with her father, she's appeared on stage in "Annie Get Your Gun" (when she was 10) and the last two summers in stock, "Bye Bye Birdie" with Andy Williams and "Wild Cat" with Martha Raye.

"But you just can't imagine how nervous I was the first day on the set," she recalls. "If you drop in on the show you'll see what a wonderful group it is, completely professional but relaxed . . . with Bill Frawley trying to break us up all the time. But I didn't realize that the first day and there were no general introductions as there are in the theater. You just go right to work and my scenes were with Fred MacMurray. Luckily about all I had to say was 'Yes, sir, and no, sir.' And he was so kind!"

TRYING TOO HARD

Most of her scenes, however, are with Tim Considine whose fiancée she plays. "It was Tim who tricked me into a valuable insight. I was trying too hard to be too good when it was my turn. I didn't realize I wasn't listening to the others until he slipped me a total nonsense line. I didn't even hear him but just on with mine! After we'd laughed it off, though I realized I'd learned something very useful."

What about the day when she has to think of marriage versus career and as a matter of fact does she have any permanent plans?

"I don't feel ready for marriage yet. No I don't really go steady. But Rick Berger (a former UCLA classmate and a nonprofessional) is, well, sort of special. I date him weekends. Most of my friends are non-professionals, a few actors but for the most part they're too self-centered."

NOT REALLY DATES

Among friends, or buddies, (and she stressed we shouldn't infer "boy friends") "some I have dinner with but they're not really dates" who she puts on the "not - self - centered list" are Tim Considine; Don Grady who plays the second son on the series; ("Don and I are both currently enrolled for evening classes at Los Angeles City College"); Bill Bixby (he works on the next set) and Doris Day's son, Terry Melcher.

"I do want to return to UCLA, too. And with our crazy schedule it just might work out for next semester." "Sons" works around the clock a couple of months of the year to do all scenes with Fred MacMurray, then shoots around him the rest of the year. "It might break down to only two days a week work for me. Then I could do it."

"Another thing, right now I play second-mother (to one younger sister, two younger brothers) when the folks are on the road. I order the groceries and check all the bills. My parents are never away for longer than a month. Usually they limit engagements to a couple of weeks."

"But when I do marry, you can bet I'm going to emulate my mother. She's always put her marriage first. When we were all small she was home. She only resumed her career five years ago."

I took a good look at Meredith. Fresh and pretty as she could be in the harsh morning light. And glamorous — but on her own wholesome terms with plenty of sound values underneath.

COVERAGE OF 22 SUMMER OLYMPIC TRIALS

ABC-TV divulges that it is setting aside 24 hours between April 4 and September 20 for coverage of the Olympic Trials of such sports as swimming, diving, basketball, judo, boxing, wrestling and gymnastics. There will be 22 events in all.

Says Chester R. Simmons, vice president of the network's sports programs, "The trials will be held in two rounds — the official team trials at which the Olympic teams or squads will be selected, and a supplementary found in which winners in track and field and gymnastics will defend their places in further competition with alternates."

MONEY MAKER

The "April in Paris Ball" which is being televised this year for the first time (by NBC) annually raises more than $2,000,000 for charity.

PREGNANT MOM TRAPS THIEVES

NEW YORK (AP)—A police-woman, six months pregnant, helped capture two car looters during a hectic chase Thursday. She fired two shots and knocked down one fugitive with her gun butt as he struggled with a detective.

Mrs. Marie Cirile, 35, was cruising in a patrol car with two detectives in the Greenwich Village area when they spotted two men in a parking lot. Police said the pair had just broken into a car and were taking out a suitcase and an armful of clothes.

The detectives leaped from the squad car and one captured a suspect after a fist fight. The other man fled. Mrs. Cirile fired a shot and drove the police car onto the sidewalk to corner him. She fired a second shot as her detective companion ran up and grappled with the man. As they wrestled, Mrs. Cirile clubbed the suspect with her gun butt.

Mrs. Cirile, the mother of a 9-year-old daughter, is scheduled to begin maternity leave next week.

"I'm slightly shook up," she said later. "This is only the second time I've had to use my gun, although I've had to pull it many times."

MANTLE TO HELP CHOOSE TEEN-AGE QUEEN

Sports as well as education and television will be represented on the panel to choose "Miss Teen-age America" November 1 with Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees giving an assist to Dr. Harry Ransom (chancellor of the University of Texas). Emceeding will be well-known television moderator Allen Ludden. Incidentally, Mantle and Ludden have more in common with Dr. Ransom than beauty judging. At various times, each has called Dallas, locale of the pageant, home.

The contestants from all 50 states got to Dallas a week early for the pageant culminating with the crowning (seen via CBS Friday, November 1, 10 p.m.). Considering their age — or rather their youth — each was accompanied by a chaperone; the girls range in age from 13 to 17.

NEW NEIGHBOR

The talking horse, "Mister Ed," and his owner, played by Alan Young will be getting a new neighbor on the series within a few weeks. He is Leon Ames, already well known to audiences for his earlier "father" roles ("Father of the Bride," "Life With Father").

The close-neighbor role for the first two and a quarter years of the series was played by Larry Keating who died during the summer of leukemia.

Observatory in London indicated the underwater center of the tremor was about 20 miles south of Portsmouth.

As earthquakes go, this was a mere baby. England has such minor tremors once every two or three years.
